CII/CPAR Training

ACTT offers CII/CPAR (Community Information Integration & Central Patient Attachment Registry) training for clinic teams working in primary care and non-family medicine specialist practices through the Alberta Medical Association's online learning platform, Learn@AMA.

For non-family medicine teams, there is one curriculum:

- This short curriculum is designed to help specialists in the community onboard to CII/CPAR, allowing them to send their Consult Reports to Netcare from their local EMR.

For primary care teams, there are two curricula:

- The first curriculum helps clinics complete the necessary paperwork that is part of the CII/CPAR onboarding process.
- The second curriculum focuses on topics relevant to clinics when they go live on CII/CPAR.

These CII/CPAR learning options are valuable for those interested in understanding more about CII/CPAR, and they include important information about what to expect as you prepare and go live on CII/CPAR.

Future eNotifcation Changes

- Physicians have high administrative burdens & we want to address this
- eNotifications from CII/CPAR & the Summative Notes from Connect Care
  - Contain valuable information & contribute to continuity of care
  - Some duplication
- Evolving technological environment
  - Connect Care continues to be implemented across the province & CII/CPAR enrollment increases
- Any changes to eNotifications needs to be carefully considered
  - Completing a risk assessment & exploring technical solutions
  - Consider global solutions & unique clinic practices (Indigenous & Pediatricians)
- Will follow up in early 2024 with more information about changes
